New Product: Last Logged Users

s4j Last Logged Users is a module that display the last x number of users from your Community Builder database that were logged in/out to your website. X is a field where admins enter the number of users to be displayed and admins have the choice of choosing last logged in or logged out date.